Remembering Paul Robertson

The OMA acknowledges the passing of OMA Past President

Paul made substantial contributions to the Ontario museum community for more than 30 years, working in museums and heritage since the 80s at the Official Residences of the National Capital Commission, the House of Commons, the Canadian Museum of History (Civilization), the Museum of Health Care at Kingston, and as Kingston's first City Curator, a post he held for more than a decade.

Paul was truly committed to the values and goals of the OMA, and he brought a wide breadth of knowledge and experience to strengthen the Association. As an active member of the OMA, Paul served on OMA Council and committees, including the Nominations Committee, Looking Ahead Task Force, Conference Committee, Modernizing Community Museum Funding Working Group, and in various Executive Positions including as OMA President from 2019-2021.

He led by example, building a culture of respect and inclusion and taking an active role in supporting emerging professionals, including through Conference Connections mentorship and the Inclusive Museum Leadership Symposium. In recent years, he took on a greater role in OMA's advocacy, meeting with Ministers, governments, and funders to express the challenges and contributions of museums.

Paul remained dedicated to fostering connections in our community. His inclusive approach to leadership helped build consensus and camaraderie on OMA Council and he eagerly mentored and welcomed new members. The Ontario museum community has lost a passionate advocate, tireless leader, and a true friend.

To Our Members

As the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic persisted, the Ontario Museum Association listened to members' concerns to lead the museum sector's response with an informed and unified voice. The OMA consistently advocated for emergency funding, investment in digital initiatives, and a renewed funding model for museum operations - brought forward in budget submissions and correspondence with Ministers.

Together with provincial heritage networks and members, the OMA successfully advocated for investments for pandemic recovery. The OMA recognized and appreciated the additional $2 million 2021 Digital Capacity grants provided to the recipients of the Community Operating Grant program by the Ministry of Heritage, Sport, Tourism, and Culture Industries in support of their digital pivot.

The OMA was also engaged with Regional Museum Networks (RMNs) in representations to Ontario government—Ministers and local MPPs—in a request for an increase to museums operating budgets towards 15% of their annual budgets for an increase in operating funding of $10 million. This recommended investment to renew the CMOG program would reach 300 community museums and increase the number of Ontarians reached in cities and towns across the province.

At the federal level, the network of National, Provincial and Territorial museums associations (NPTMAs) advocated for Canadian Heritage to continue pandemic reopening and recovery funding support and a streamlined application process, in addition to the newly launched Digital Access to Heritage program. The OMA also worked in collaboration with NPTMAs to continue advocating for a new National Museum Policy.

In addition to advocacy initiatives, the OMA provided relevant and timely resources for our members, such as The Digital Strategy Checklist Tool and several webinars addressing museum work during the pandemic.

We would like to extend a heartfelt thank you to all members who engaged in discussions and provided feedback, participating in focus groups and surveys which were essential in guiding the work of the Association during the past year. With this feedback, the OMA undertook a review of the Certificate in Museum Studies (CMS) program, created the Professional Development Advisory Committee and a new Ontario Museum Digital Advisory Committee.

For a second year, the sector gathered virtually for the OMA Annual Conference 2021, an important time to reconnect with colleagues on the theme of "Reopening, Recovery, Reimagination." Sessions focused on member participation and discussions on the following ideas: the essential components and impact of a renewed funding model with increased funding for museum operations; the digital transformation of museums, and how to support a diverse workforce.

This year, OMA Executive Director, Marie Lalonde, was invited to participate in the international ICOM Museum Definition committee tasked with delivering a new museum definition for the global museum community that aims to reflect contemporary practice and interest while also becoming a central reference for all our work.

With sadness, we also want to acknowledge the passing of OMA Past President, Paul Robertson, a beloved and generous museum colleague who for more than 30 years made a remarkable contribution to the Association and to the entire Ontario museum community. We have lost a passionate advocate, tireless leader, and a true friend.

The OMA will continue to work with members as the sector moves forward into recovery. A strong and vibrant museum sector is essential to reconnecting and rebuilding Ontario, and we have been continually inspired by the perseverance and resourcefulness of our members. We thank you for your continued engagement and support!

COVID-19 Response, Reopening & Recovery

<https://members.museumsontario.ca/resources/tools-for-museum-practice/COVID19>

As the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic persisted, the OMA remained committed to providing information to support Ontario's museums and museum workers to respond to a changing landscape and participate in the province's reopening and recovery.

OMA COVID-19 Webinars and Online Resources

Webinars on various aspects of museum work during COVID-19 were offered at no charge to members to ensure full access. A dedicated COVID-19 Resources page on the OMA website collected information and resources about the pandemic and its impacts for Ontario museums and is continually updated with new information and resources.

Public Services Health and Safety Association Health and Safety Consultants Rob Oliver and Janice Gallant presented a webinar about how to reopen museums safely in their roles as both workplaces and public attractions.

Member Check-Ins

OMA members were invited to participate in a #MuseumsConnectON Member Check-in meeting and discuss the role of museums in addressing urgent social issues. This session, facilitated by Florencia Berinstein from Workers Arts & Heritage Centre (WAHC) and Nadine Villasin Feldman from Myseum of Toronto, encouraged participants to share the challenges and barriers to doing this work, as well as strategies for engaging communities around difficult conversations.

eNews Alerts

As information became available and public health guidelines shifted, the OMA kept members up-to-date with eNews Alerts covering sector news, urgent updates, policy changes, notice and follow-up of technical briefings with Minister MacLeod, and new funding opportunities.

Correspondence with Government

The OMA remained in continual contact with the government of Ontario and the Ministry of Heritage, Sport, Tourism and Culture Industries (MHSTCI), advocating for museum sector priorities and collecting essential information to report back to members.

#MuseumsConnectON Member Check-in meeting with Florencia Berinstein and Nadine Villasin Feldman.

Supporting Our Members

The OMA offered many membership services free of charge, including webinars, Member Check-Ins, sector-specific COVID-19 and funding resources on the OMA website, and the weekly delivery of ONmuseums and eNews Alerts to members regardless of their renewal status.

OMA Advocacy

The OMA provides leadership on key and developing areas of importance to museums. We work with all levels of government, funders, cultural leaders and the general public to strengthen awareness of shared values and support for museums. Together with Ontario's Regional Museum Networks (RMNs) and the National, Provincial and Territorial Museums Associations (NPTMAs), the OMA will continue to champion a renewal of Ontario's museum funding model for all museums serving communities across the province.

Provincial Advocacy

<https://members.museumsontario.ca/programs-events/advocacy>

Invest Fully Campaign

In June 2021, The OMA asked members to share an open letter addressed to Minister MacLeod and Premier Ford with their MPPs, community members, and media. The letter called on the provincial government to invest fully in Ontario museums through the Community Museum Operating Grant (CMOG) program so they can survive the pandemic and contribute to the province's recovery and vitality.

Reopening Regulations Letter

In June 2021, The OMA sent a letter to Minister MacLeod, sharing member concerns and the OMA's recommendations to allow the operation of outdoor guided tours by museums and historic sites in Step 1 of the Roadmap to Reopen, and indoor museums to open in Step 2.

Capital stream of the Community Building Fund

In August 2021, in a letter to the Honourable Lisa MacLeod, Minister of Heritage, Sport, Tourism and Culture Industries and the Honourable Kinga Surma, Minister of Infrastructure, the OMA expressed the need for museums be included and eligible for the Capital stream of the Community Building Fund, administered by the Ontario Trillium Foundation.

Provincial Advocacy

 https://members.museumsontario.ca/sites/default/files/Ontario-Museum-Association_Provincial-Budget-Submission_2022.pdf

Submission to Ontario's 2022 Budget

The OMA made three recommendations for targeted provincial support, so that museums can recover and strengthen their service to communities across Ontario:

1. An Ontario Museum Relief Fund, valued at $10 Million, in immediate response to the impacts of COVID-19—to support museums' survival during periods of closures
2. A Digital Response Fund, valued at $10 Million over three years
3. Increased support for community museums by $10 Million per year to reach 300 communities across the province—towards stabilizing operations and local recovery

OMA Executive Director, Marie Lalonde, presented these recommendations to the Standing Committee on Finance and Economic Affairs, and members bolstered the submission by sending letters to local MPPs. In collaboration with the OMA, Regional Museum Networks sent a letter to the Honourable Lisa MacLeod, Minister of Heritage, Sport, Tourism and Culture Industries, and the Honourable Peter Bethlenfalvy, Minister of Finance, advocating for recommendation 3, for increased provincial support through a targeted investment of $10 million.

Digital Capacity Grant Report Back

Following the $2M Digital Capacity Grants provided in March 2021 to recipients of the Community Museum Operating Grant program (CMOG), OMA worked with the Ministry of Tourism, Culture and Sport to receive data from specific questions asked about the Digital Capacity Grant as part of the June 2021 CMOG application.

Museum Networks

<https://members.museumsontario.ca/programs-events/advocacy/regional-museum-networks>

The OMA's connections and collaborations with other organizations and stakeholders have been essential to our work over the past year. Ontario's Regional Museum Networks (RMNs), the Group of Emerging Museum Professionals (GOEMP), our fellow Provincial Heritage Organizations (PHOs), Provincial Arts Services Organizations (PASOs), the Ontario Nonprofit Network (ONN) and Canada's National, Provincial, and Territorial Museums Associations (NPTMAs) have all played a role in the successful initiatives and programs that have helped museums and our organizations survive the pandemic and build greater impact when our members have needed us the most. We look forward to strengthening our relationships with our sector allies.

National Advocacy

<https://members.museumsonario.ca/programs-events/advocacy>

Budget Submission

As part of the consultation process for Canada's Federal Budget 2022, the OMA submitted six recommendations echoing calls made by the Canadian Museums Association (CMA). The Recommendations provide key action areas for the Government to rebuild connection to our country's museums and assist them in survival and recovery during the pivotal time of a global pandemic. The OMA presented these recommendations to MP Julie Dzerowicz (Member, Standing Committee on Finance; Davenport; Liberal)

Elections 2021 Open Letter

The OMA and 10 other provincial and territorial museums associations, representing over 2,000 museum and heritage institutions, partnered with the Canadian Museums Association (CMA) to call on federal political parties to commit to updating Canada's 30-year-old national museum policy. The letter urged representatives to commit to work with museums to develop policies adapted to the unique place and role of museums in modern Canadian society.

Julie Dzerowicz @JulieDzerowicz · Feb 10

Today I took part in a great discussion with art groups on their pre-budget recommendations. I will never get tired of reminding Canadians and #DavenportTO how important the arts community is and fighting for the creative sector.

Stakeholder Meeting with Canadian Heritage Minister Pablo Rodriguez

OMA Executive Director, Marie Lalonde, was invited to partake in a stakeholder meeting with the Honourable Pablo Rodriguez, Minister of Canadian Heritage. Participants discussed the impacts of the pandemic, what a successful recovery looks like, and the sustainable growth of these sectors. The OMA will continue working with national and provincial colleagues to advocate for a new national museum policy and operating support to stabilize museum and heritage organizations.

National Culture Summit 2022

In 2022, in Ottawa, the OMA joined fellow National, Provincial and Territorial Museums Associations (NPTMAs) colleagues, the Canadian Museums Association (CMA), other organizations and representatives of the arts, culture and heritage sector for the National Culture Summit, "The Future of the Arts, Culture, and Heritage in Canada." The OMA was invited by the Department of Canadian Heritage to amplify the needs and potential of our members at the national level.

Municipal Advocacy

<https://members.museumsontario.ca/programs-events/advocacy/municipal-elections>

The OMA continued to share resources and techniques to assist Ontario museums in communicating their impacts and effectivity advocate to municipal governments. “Museums and Your Municipality” is a handout that provides information on the benefits and possibilities of museums and their communities.

May is Museum Month/Mai, Mois des Musées

<https://members.museumsontario.ca/programs-events/advocacy/mmm-imd>

With the pivot to online programming and various mandated museum closures, May is Museum Month/Mai, Mois des Musées was predominantly celebrated through a variety of digital initiatives. The OMA's public communications focused on encouraging Ontarians to engage in online programming offered by local museums, galleries, and heritage sites throughout May 2021.

The OMA published themed museum lists on the OMA website, authored social media content, and created a social media kit and proclamation letter template. The downloadable kit helped Ontario museums promote their events through social media and other communications. The shared letter prompted 6 communities across Ontario to proclaim May is Museum Month in 2021.

The OMA also collaborated with the Culinary Tourism Alliance and The Globe and Mail to develop the Great Taste of Ontario: Museum Edition special section published in May 2021. The four museum-focused articles in the section were:

- Technology takes a permanent place in museum strategy
- Digging into Ontario's food heritage
- The changing role of museums
- First-hand museum experiences irreplicable

Strengthening Our Bonds, Sharing Our Practices

The OMA works in collaboration with the Ontario museum community to create a culture that fosters critical self-reflection in its efforts to make substantive changes for a more diverse and inclusive sector.

The OMA is committed to make every effort to promote the participation of members of equity-seeking groups including members of Black, racialized, and diverse Indigenous communities, women, persons with disabilities, neurodiverse individuals, members of the 2SLGBTQ+ community, emerging museum professionals, and others who may contribute their perspectives and lived experience for the further diversification of the Association.

Indigenous Collections Symposium 2021

<https://members.museumsontario.ca/programs-events/current-initiatives/indigenous-collections-symposium-2021>

As we continue our reconciliation efforts as a museum community, the OMA looks forward to fostering the ongoing learning and collaboration that will result in meaningful change. The OMA strives to ensure that the Ontario museum community is an inclusive space where those of us who are settlers in settler institutions do the work of decolonization and support Indigenous self-determination and cultural renewal.

Over the years, Indigenous museum professionals and organizations have generously shared their work with Ontario's museum sector. Museums can learn from the teachings and example of Indigenous Elders, colleagues and organizations by accessing our resources for Indigenous Culture and Reconciliation.

In 2021, 250 Indigenous and non-Indigenous museum professionals gathered online for the second Indigenous Collections Symposium: Mashkawatgong-mamawewiziwin – strengthening our bonds, sharing our practices. Participants shared reflections on how they will take the Symposium's teachings into the future:

Participant reflections on how they will take the Symposium's teachings into the Future

Reaching out to, communicating better with, and being guided by communities

Recognizing the importance of language, reciprocity, and traditional care

Making the time to listen, learn, understand

Thinking about large decolonization frameworks; and taking small steps every day

Advocating for and obtaining resources to fund important work

Sharing what I learnt with my colleagues and in my institution

OMA Annual Conference 2021

<https://members.museumsontario.ca/programs-events/conference/2021>

Reopening, Recovery, Reimagination

Ontario's museum community once again gathered virtually for the OMA's Annual Conference, and it was a full day of reconnection and rejuvenation!

Mindful of the financial constraints brought on by the pandemic, the Association was pleased to offer a fully subsidized registration option for members, to maximize accessibility for the virtual format.

Throughout the conference, delegates embraced the opportunity to reimagine their practices and the path to recovery. The program sessions were a reflection of the current state of the sector and its future, such as reopening amidst a pandemic, rethinking and reimagining core missions and values, and learning from the public and communities we serve.

Four "Talking Change, Taking Charge" discussions provided delegates with the opportunity to brainstorm and converse with one another in breakout sessions, with a focus on pandemic recommendations to government. Particularly, discussions centred on a renewed funding model for museum operations, the digital transformation and investment of museums, and supporting a diverse workforce.

OMA CONFERENCE 2021 HIGHLIGHTS:

Minister MacLeod at #OMAConf2021

We were pleased to welcome The Honourable Lisa McLeod, Minister of Heritage, Sport, Tourism and Culture Industries to the second virtual OMA Annual Conference. Minister MacLeod addressed OMA delegates regarding the effects of the pandemic and the importance of Ontario's heritage organizations, and answered important questions about the future of Ontario's museums.

Keynote

This year we welcomed keynote speaker Micah Parzen! As CEO of the Museum of Us, San Diego, formerly known as the San Diego Museum of Man, Micah Parzen showed us how a museum can reimagine its traditional identity and move towards inclusivity; towards a museum that is representative of all the communities it serves. From changing names to changing practices, Micah Parzen presented a story of reimagination.

Small Bytes: Supporting Digitization in Ontario's Smaller and Rural Museums

Small Bytes is an initiative of the Ontario Museum Association (OMA) funded by the Department of Canadian Heritage. With this initiative, the OMA will provide accessible, high-quality online training opportunities to build the digital capacity and skills of Ontario's smaller and rural museums, to increase accessibility to their collections through digital initiatives.

The OMA has formed the Ontario Digital Museum Advisory Committee, made up of museum representatives who bring technical expertise and small and rural museum voices to the project.

We Support Ontario Museums

Mission

The Ontario Museum Association strengthens capacity among institutions and individuals active in Ontario's museum sector, facilitates excellence and best practices, and improves the communication and collaboration of its membership. The Association advocates for the important role of Ontario's museums to society, working with all stakeholders, related sectors and industries, and other professional organizations.

Vision

The Ontario Museum Association (OMA) is the leading professional organization advancing a strong, collaborative, and inclusive museum sector that is vital to community life and the well-being of Ontarians.

Our Roles

Advocate

We create positive change for museums through proactive positioning while representing museums with stakeholders.

Convenor

We are the nexus of a strong network, building a more collaborative and connected sector through events and communications.

Thought Leader

We are a credible leader that advances the museum sector through research and the sharing of best practices within the sector.

Professional Body

We provide professional development programs and internationally-recognized best practices to foster continued education.

Towards 2025: OMA's Strategic Plan

 <https://members.museumsontario.ca/about-us/strategic-plan>

"Towards 2025: the Ontario Museum Association's Strategic Plan" establishes priorities for the OMA to address from 2016-2021 – informed by sector visioning from "Ontario's Museums 2025: Strategic Vision and Action Plan." and "The Ontario Culture Strategy".

Our goals:

Recommend and develop, in collaboration with members and funders, new museum funding models that are relevant, adequate, equitable, and accountable"

Strengthen skills, knowledge, innovation and excellence in museum work

Advance sector position through advocacy, research and stakeholder relations

Ensure the vitality and relevance of the OMA

Audited Summary Financial Statements

Report of the Independent Auditor on the Summary Financial Statements

To the Members and Council of the Ontario Museum Association

Opinion

The summary financial statements, which comprise the summary balance sheet as at March 31, 2022, and the summary statement of operations for the year then ended, and related note, are derived from the audited financial statements of the Ontario Museum Association (the "Association") for the year ended March 31, 2022.

In our opinion, the accompanying summary financial statements are a fair summary of the audited financial statements, in accordance with the criteria described in the note to the summary financial statements.

Summary Financial Statements

The summary financial statements do not contain all the disclosures required by Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations. Reading the summary financial statements and the auditor's report thereon, therefore, is not a substitute for reading the audited financial statements of the Association and the auditor's report thereon.

The Audited Financial Statements and Our Report Thereon

We expressed an unmodified audit opinion on the audited financial statements in our report dated June 24, 2022.

Management's Responsibility for the Summary Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of the summary financial statements in accordance with the criteria described in the note to the summary financial statements.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on whether the summary financial statements are a fair summary of the audited financial statements based on our procedures, which were conducted in accordance with Canadian Auditing Standard (CAS) 810, Engagements to Report on Summary Financial Statements.

Note to Summary Financial Statements Year Ended March 31, 2022

Basis of presentation

These summary financial statements have been prepared from the audited financial statements of Ontario Museum Association for the year ended March 31, 2022 on a basis that is consistent, in all material respects, with the audited financial statements of Ontario Museum Association except that the information presented in respect of changes in net assets and cash flows has not been included and information disclosed in the notes to the financial statements has been reduced.

Complete audited financial statements are available upon request.
